Rosebud League Is Reorganized

The old Rosebud Hockey League was reorganized at a meeting held at Carstairs on Monday evening, when Airdrie, Crossfield, Carstairs and Didsbury were represented.

C. E. Reiber, of Didsbury was elected president; Mr. McLeeman, of Airdrie, vice-president, and J. H. Ure, of Carstairs, secretary.

The league is organized on a strictly amateur basis and all players must be eligible for amateur cards and must be bona fide residents of the town or district for which they play for ten days prior to any game played.

A.H.A. rules will govern all games and the home team will supply the referee, except in a play-off.

A single schedule has been arranged, and if the support of the public warrants, the schedule will be doubled.

I.O.D.E. Place Pictures In School

The Didsbury I.O.D.E., again showed their interest in the school children of the district at their last meeting, which was held at the home of Mrs. Hugget, when they decided to place war memorial pictures in the principals' rooms of both the High School and Public School.

They also will place I.O.D.E. calendars in all the rooms of the Didsbury schools, also in 19 rural schools in the district. They also added to their charitable efforts by donating $25.00 to the Red Cross Society.

The bazaar and food sale given by Knox United Church Ladies Aid in the Opera House last Saturday was very well patronized and at the close of the afternoon there was very little left on the tables. The waffle supper in the evening attracted a large number from both town and country, and the ladies had a busy time supplying the needs of their patrons. The waffles were made from the pancake flour manufactured at the local mill and Mr. and Mrs. M. Weber attended to the baking of the waffles.

Christmas Tree For Veterans' Children

The Canadian Legion will hold their annual Xmas Tree in the Opera House on Saturday afternoon December 19th.

The kiddies will be entertained to a concert, and Santa Claus will have nuts and candy and a present for all the children.

All children of returned soldiers are invited, whether their father is a member of the Legion or not.

Red Cross Drive.

Misfortune and want must be provided for, and relief organizations find themselves hard pressed to meet all the demands that are made upon them these days. The longer the depression continues, the larger the number of appeals for assistance, and therefore increasing need for supplies, which in many instances have already been exhausted.

The Red Cross are putting on a drive this week and next. They are asking for: food, clothing, grain, vegetables, poultry, money, in fact anything you can spare to help relieve and feed those who have not. Trucks will call for your donation or you may deliver it to Red Cross Headquarters.

Everyone should do all they can to help this great organization do for us this much-needed work of money to alleviate suffering in our community.

The tea to be given by the ladies this Saturday afternoon (the 12th) to raise funds, should be well attended.

Farm Lecture.

There was only a small crowd attended the lecture given under the auspices of the U.F.A. on Tuesday afternoon, but those present were thoroughly interested.

Mr. Roy Smith, of the I.H.C. demonstration farm at Gull Lake, Sask., who delivered the lecture, dealt with the raising and feeding of livestock. He advocated the growing of alfalfa as a forage crop, stating that there was no question but that it could be grown in this district. He also dwelt briefly on farming under dry conditions.

A moving picture, "Romance of the Range" was shown, depicting the progress in harvesting during the last 100 years.

The lecture was very interesting and instructive and it is unfortunate that more farmers did not take the opportunity of hearing Mr. Smith.

The Hudson Bay Route

The recent successful voyage of the steamer "Farnworth" from Churchill to London, England, loaded with the first cargo of wheat from Western Canada's own export, and which voyage was made in the short space of sixteen days, marks an epoch in Canada's maritime history.

It is true that vessels have passed in and out of Hudson Bay every year for more than a century; it is even true that two rival navies entered the Bay, fought a battle there, and sailed out again. It is also true that the success attending the voyage of the "Farnworth" and its sister ship, the "Warkworth," was an outcome fully expected by Western people. The importance of this venture lies in the fact that it provided the final demonstration to Eastern Canada and the world that the West's belief in the feasibility of the Bay route, and its demands, extending for fifty years back, for the construction of the railway to the Bay were fully justified.

It has been proven that the Bay route can be made a commercial success; that the 1,000 mile shorter route from the heart of the grain growing prairie to the centre of the Empire is a practical route. But the fast, safe trips of the "Farnworth" and "Warkworth," through what had for years been regarded as the "frozen North," are not in themselves sufficient guarantee that the new route will become the important factor it should be in the economic history of Western Canada.

The Hudson Bay route is 1,000 miles shorter than any other route; it is feasible; it is practical; it can be made a success. But, in order to be a complete success and to provide an adequate return to the people of Canada for the $50,000,000, more or less, expended on the railway, the port terminals, and for navigation aids through the straits, other things are essential. Unfortunately, some of these matters are tangled up in the controversy of rival policies of political parties. With these rivalries this column has no concern, but, speaking for the West, it must be said without any qualification that they cannot, must not be allowed to hamper the success of the Bay route.

Among the things now essential to the success of that route are:

- (1) The lowest possible rates of freight on both outgoing and incoming shipments over the Hudson Bay railway, and this means the application in all its detail of the Crown's Next Pass schedules to the Hudson Bay railway.
- (2) The lowest possible rates of insurance on both vessels and cargoes utilizing the Bay route, and in this connection, absorption by the Federal Government of any excess in such rates charged over and above those obtaining on other routes until experience demonstrates what the proper rates should be.
- (3) The removal of any existing obstacles to the freest possible passage and entry of merchandise and products of all kinds from the more easterly sections of Canada and the markets of Europe into Western Canada by means of the Bay route and the port of Churchill, such removal of existing obstacles to be accompanied by every reasonable encouragement of such traffic. This is essential because no railway and no ocean-going vessel can quote low rates if it can depend on only a one-way traffic.
- (4) Finally, it is important that certain branch lines of railway be built in the West which will have the effect of connecting up existing lines in the shortest and most direct way possible with the Hudson Bay railway. This can be done in the majority of cases with comparatively short cut-offs.

Some people advocate making Churchill not only a national port, but a free port. That may or may not be feasible. Such a decision would have an effect on the whole fiscal and economic systems of the Dominion, although unquestionably it would give a great boost to the Bay route and make its success assured.

The point of this article, however, is just this: The Hudson Bay route can, we believe, be made to realize the dreams of western people. It can be made a financial success as well as a great economic and commercial enterprise. The opportunity and the responsibility now rests with the people of the West, irrespective of class or party, to work together in union to achieve that result. Freight rates must be the lowest possible; insurance rates likewise; railway branch cut-offs must be built; obstacles, if any, to movement of traffic removed; full encouragement for use of the route provided. All political parties have had a hand in the building of the railway and the opening of the route; all have a common interest in its success. So, regardless of party, all Westerners should work together to make that success an assured fact.

Russia and Germany

Soviets Have Good Reason For Not Stirring Up Revolution

For once the Soviet Government of Russia has been reluctant to play with fire in a powder house. On every earlier occasion when Russian neighbor, Germany, passed through a difficult financial situation, Russian agents were busy in Hamburg, Dresden, Berlin, and other cities, attempting to stir up revolution. In the present case Russia has apparently kept hands off, and one of the dispatches from Moscow suggests the reason. Russia's chief interest today is the five-year plan. If this plan is to succeed, Russia must build up an export trade. One of the best markets for Russian exports is Germany. Revolution in Germany might endanger the five-year plan by depriving Russia of an indispensable outlet for the raw materials which she must sell abroad, in order to build up credit with which to purchase machinery and tools.

If the Soviet's policy toward Germany is any guide, the world has less to fear from Russia, seeking prosperous markets for her wares, than from Russia, starving and empty handed.

NEIGHBORS TALK

"I am employed in a theatre and it is a problem to make ends meet, as I help support my mother and sisters. I like to dress well but haven't very much to spend on clothes. To give the appearance of variety to my slender wardrobe I change the colour of a dress or stockings, so soon as the things become faded. I always use Diamond Dyes for the work, using them as dyes for dresses and as tints for stockings. I have always gotten such perfect results that my neighbors talk about the great number of new things I have."

"I learned about Diamond Dyes from our window mistress. She says she has tried all the dyes on the market but none do such splendid work and are so easy to use as Diamond Dyes. I understand they are the world's most popular dyes — and they deserve to be."

Auditorium For Winnipeg

Federal Government Will Share In Cost of Construction

Approval by the special sub-committee of cabinet on unemployment relief of $1,250,000 additional expenditure for the Province of Manitoba, including the Federal Government's share in the cost of construction of a large auditorium in the City of Winnipeg, was announced by Hon. G. D. Robertson, Minister of Labor, and chairman of the sub-committee.

Federal Government commitments for the Province of Manitoba are now upward of $2,250,000, as compared with $600,000, which was the Federal allotment for Manitoba last year in addition to the necessary direct relief on an equal three-way basis between the cities, province and Dominion.

Life Insurance In Canada

Per Capita Record Surpassed Only By United States

A statement issued by the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau shows that in the first nine months of the present year a total of $267,227,000 of new paid-up ordinary life insurance was sold in Canada and Newfoundland.

This hardly indicates that Canada is laud.

What it does indicate is that if Mr. Bennett could be required to float an inflated loan he could be caught to have no difficulty in raising an amount up to $250,000,000.

Presidential speaking of life insurance, the total of insurance in force in Canada at the present time is $6,509,600,000, or $669 for every man, woman and child in the Dominion. It is a per capita record surpassed by only one country in the world, the United States. Ottawa Journal.

British Postal Notes

Post Office Department Says British and Irish Free State Postal Orders No Longer To Be Cashed

Due to the depreciated British pound, orders have been issued by the post office department that British and Irish Free State postal notes are no longer to be cashed. The order does not apply to postal notes money orders.

The explanation given at Ottawa is that postal notes are settled with London on a different basis to money orders and involve the risk of exchange fluctuations. In any circumstances, the Canadian post office authorities have been inclining to the view that circulation of British and Irish Free State postal notes should cease in Canada and the present chaotic exchange situation appears to provide a suitable occasion for bringing the change of policy into effect.

These governments, however, on advice from Ottawa, have now ceased to issue postal notes for Canada, and will issue only money orders hereafter. The money order, it is stated here, does not involve any exchange risk.

The British exchange situation also has had repercussions on the circulation in Canada of British bank notes. The pound and ten shilling notes, it is learned, are no longer being accepted by many of the Canadian banks.

Upset Telegraph Service

East African Natives Used Wires For Personal Adornment

Telegraph wire, in varying lengths, attached here and there to otherwise scanty clothing, means little to the natives of Tanganyika and Kenya. South Africa, and as a result the capital was without wire service for the count for more than 24 hours.

The demand for wire for sartorial purposes exceeded the available non-commercial supply, so the natives cut telegraph lines about 24 miles from Mombasa and took what they wanted. Cable messages had to be sent to Mombasa, and thence by train, until the damage was repaired. The delay was 16 hours.

Big Blueberry Crop

Shipment of Blueberries From Kenora This Year Totalled 255,000 Pounds

One Kenora industry showed a remarkable increase this year, as compared with 1930. Blueberries shipped from Kenora this year showed an approximate increase of eighty per cent. over last year's shipments.

The 1935 blueberry crop was 145,000 pounds, or some 8,700 baskets, while this year the shipments totalled 255,000 pounds, or some 15,300 baskets. While the prices this year were lower than last year, yet the increase was even more marked, in the fact that there was always a market this season for the berries, a fact that is not always experienced in other years.

Declares More Armed Men In World To-Day Than In 1914. Before Outbreak Of Great War

Arresting information on world armaments was given by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice and head of the Canadian delegation to the 12th assembly of the League of Nations. Twenty per cent. of the aggregate amount of revenues of nations in the world today goes on armaments, Mr. Guthrie declared to a combined meeting of the League of Nations society and the Women's Canadian Club at Ottawa. After all the efforts of the past 12 years there were more armed men in the world today than there were in 1914 before the war. Expenditures were greater, he said. Mr. Guthrie, danger of war became a large armaments existed in 1914, who should be said of conditions today?

This condition was the reason for the coming disarmament conference to be held in Geneva next February, continued the Minister of Justice. Right thinking people felt that there was danger of war and that steps should be taken to remove this danger. If a start in the direction could be made next February, much would have been accomplished. "But," said Mr. Guthrie, "I believe that security must precede disarmament in Europe."

The Minister of Justice spoke on the subject of "present problems of the League of Nations." Having returned from Geneva only a short time ago, he was familiar with proceedings at the 12th assembly, and he outlined for his listeners what had been accomplished by the representatives of the 52 nations present. Disarmament, he said, had overshadowed all other subjects discussed. A draft agreement had been prepared for submission to the disarmament conference in February, and he considered it a model document.

Weather Records Changed

White River, Ontario, Had Causally Mild October

White River, Ontario, which often wins page one prominence because of its winter habit of being the coldest spot in Canada, blossomed forth this year with weather records of a totally different kind.

An average high temperature of about 55 degrees was recorded for October of this year compared with 40 a year ago, while the lowest mark to date of October was well above 10 with 10 degrees shown as the low at that time.

Plant life flourished under the mild weather, with tame strawberries being plucked during the month. Thueberry blossoms found in many places and dandelions numerous. The fourth crop of clover was being grown in farm fields.

Hunters reported the woods full of insects, black flies and mosquitoes being nearly as numerous as at mid-summer.

Good Advice To Follow

Live Right and Whether Future Life Exists Does Not Matter

Relatively few people reach a state of mind which enables them to say with the late Thomas A. Edison, "If there is life hereafter, or if there is none, it does not matter." Most men today live either in an earnest hope or dire dread of immortality. Or, if they dissent from the general belief in life after death, find a comfort in the prospect of annihilation.

Few of us are wise enough and strong enough to live as we believe life ought to be lived and then remain content to let the question of a future existence take care of itself. Few of us are able to keep before our minds an acute realization that talk, speculation, argument and desire are utterly impotent to change the fact about the existence or non-existence of immortality; and that the best we can do is to order our ways so that in the event of an awakening beyond death, we will be in a position to exist comfortably and happily thereafter.

Certainly there is nothing to be lost by a life of proper preparation for possible eventualities, and there may be much to be gained. And as certainly, if the order of the universe contains no provision for resurrection on a man there will be no regret, for we never will know that we labored in vain.

International Peace Garden

Turtle Mountain Site Has Been Selected By Committee

The international peace gardens will be located in the Turtle Mountain site in Manitoba. The final selection of this area has been made by the international committee and is now approved by all American and Canadian leaders having the question of a site under consideration.

The Turtle Mountain site is on the International Boundary, partly in Manitoba and partly in North Dakota. In September the National Association of Gardeners at their convention at Asbury Park, N.J., approved the site but final decision rested with the International Peace Garden Commission and the executives of the Canadian Association of Florists and Gardeners and the National Association of Gardeners.

Two sections of land are to be donated by the Manitoba Government and a similar area by the state of North Dakota. The plan calls for planting the garden with flowering plants, trees and shrubbery representative of both nations.

It is proposed to raise a fund of $50,000 to maintain the garden in perpetuity as a token of the unbroken peace between Canada and the United States. While means of raising the money have not been settled, the international committee is conducting a collection of suggestions from school children in all parts of Canada and the United States.

Automobiles Give Big Revenue

Registration and Gasoline Tax Help To Swell Receipts

Revenue from motor vehicles, including registration and gasoline tax, totalled $1,076,495 in 1930, an increase of $174,163 or 15 per cent. over the previous year, according to a preliminary report on highways and motor vehicles issued by the Canadian Government Bureau of Statistics.

There was a decrease during the year under review of $2,165,134, or 7.2 per cent. in registration fees, largely to the decrease of the average fee in the province of Ontario, all this was offset by an increase of $2,411,257 or 20.3 per cent. in the receipt from gasoline tax over the same period, owing to the larger quantity of gasoline consumed.

Railway Bond Ruling

A Surcharge Is Set On Express Rates To United States

A surcharge amounting to 60 per cent. of the rate of exchange between Canadian and United States currency has been imposed upon the ordinary rates, by the Board of Railway Commissioners. The order becomes effective at once. This brings the express rates into line with the freight rates on traffic to the United States, a surcharge having been placed on these several weeks ago.

Refusal of the United States express companies to accept payment in anything but United States funds was the reason for the imposition of the surcharge.

A Feasible Route

Churchill Route Is Considered Favorable By Sea Captain

The shipment of grain and other cargoes through the Hudson Strait from Canada's new northern harbor, Churchill, to European ports, is very feasible, according to Captain W. J. Bale, commander of the Canadian Government ice-breaker, "N. E. McLean," which returned to Quebec after spending three and a half months patrolling Hudson Strait.

Captain Bale said that the two grain boats, the "Farnworth" with 7,110 tons of wheat and the "Warkworth" with 7,172 tons, were both escorted through the strait from Cape Chilly to Coates Island at the eastern extremity of the strait, on their trip to the Old Country. No trouble was experienced and the owners of the two vessels had already signified their willingness to carry further cargoes from Churchill.

Conditions in the Hudson Strait this season have been the best in many years, the "McLean" commander stated, very little field ice being encountered, though quite a few bergs were sighted. The first special came on September 16.

Eliminates Monoxide Fumes

Device Invented By Toronto Man Is Protection To Motorists

Invention of a device which eliminates the deadly carbon monoxide fumes from automobile exhaust is the claim made by W. Gordon Marsh of Toronto. Substantiation of the claim is contained in a report by A. E. Smith, assistant professor of chemical engineering at the University of Toronto.

Mr. Smith made an analysis of a sample taken from a car fitted with the device and his signal report shows carbon monoxide had been almost completely eliminated.

Saskatchewan Boy Makes Remarkable Progress With Studies

Indianapolis, U.S.A., may have a boy wonder in Donald S. McDougall who completed 12 years of public and high schooling in 9 1/2 years, but a Saskatchewan lad, Albert Barr, of Manor, can go him one better.

Young Barr has produced an affidavit to show that he made the same progress as McDougall in eight years, five months and 20 days.

The youthful six footer of Manor now wants to go to college and is trying to find the means to do it.

SHARPENING TOOLS FOR WAR

Japanese soldiers stationed in Korea are shown busily sharpening their swords and bayonets before they leave their base for the zone of war in and about Mukden-Manchuria. New battle machines, Chinese who encounter these fierce-looking warriors and feel the touch of that biting steel!

Secrets of the polar regions may be disclosed next year as scientists of eleven different countries commence expeditions at points in the Arctic and Antarctic. The expeditions will spend 11 months in the frigid zones, are expected to bring back important data on weather conditions, the feasibility of aeronautical navigation across the Arctic regions and the phenomena poles.

Five of the special observations will be established in Canadian territory and the system will play a leading part in the effort to disclose some of the hidden atmospheric and magnetic secrets of the polar areas.

The Arctic and Antarctic invasions recall the first meteorological polar year in 1882-83.

The ten countries, in addition to Canada, which are joining in the enterprise, are Great Britain, France, the United States, Holland, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Russia, Germany and Italy.

Documents and data relating to the expeditions are accumulating in the office of John Patterson, head of the Dominion Meteorological Service, a member of the original committee of four which laid the ground work for the plan. The proposal for a second international polar year was first made by Vice-Admiral Donnik, director of the German Marine Meteorological Service. The suggestion was adopted at the conference of Empire Meteorologists at London, England, in 1929, and the International Meteorological Conference at Copenhagen, Denmark, later that year.

Investigation of polar atmosphere and magnetism and the aurora borealis, hitherto known as the northern lights, have been regarded as of increasingly vital importance in the elucidation of meteorological problems. The first polar year made it possible for the first time in history to make a systematic study of magnetic elements in the region of the North Pole, and provided material for the magnetic charts of Arctic areas which are still in use.

It is believed, however, that extensive changes have taken place in polar atmosphere and magnetic conditions in the 50 years since the last expedition.

As far as possible all the stations occupied in 1882 will be used next year in the interest of uniformity of observation, but a number of additional stations will be established to increase the comprehensiveness and scope of next year's enterprise.

Stations were established at Fort Rae and Fort Conger in 1882, but three Canadian outposts will be new. They will be at Chesterfield Inlet, on the northwest side of Hudson's Bay; at Compton, on Corporation Gulf, and at Menzies, 7 1/2 miles north of Edmonton. Fort Rae is situated on the north arm of Great Bear Lake.

As To Names

Found That Mary Is the Favorite Among Women's Names In England

Careful statistics have been collected by a man in England as to names, from which it is realized that John is the favorite Christian name in that country, followed by Thomas, William, Richard and Robert. In that order, Mary is the favorite among women's names and during the past hundred years sixty-eight girl babies out of every thousand have been christened Mary Eliza, Sarah Anne, Jane and Ellen come next among girls' names, or did so up to the date of the Great War.

Get Ready For Xmas!

Christmas is only two weeks away and the business men would do well to make the town a little Christmas like. No doubt the different store windows will be dressed with Christmas goods and the interiors take on a Christmassy appearance. If in addition to this a few lighted trees could be placed on the street it would make our shopping center a little more attractive for our country customers.

The idea of decorations might be carried further and our homes could be brightened up with evergreens and colored lights. A little effort along these lines would make us all feel more cheerful and make the Christmas season brighter for everyone.

The Provinces Have To Pay.

The three western provinces have assumed the losses of the wheat pools. The total is given as something more than $22,000,000. The bill has been settled, or will be settled, by giving the banks provincial bonds for this amount. The indirect and contingent liability thus becomes a direct liability, as direct and actual as any other bond issue.

Alberta's share is some $5,500,000. That is the amount which the province now owes the banks on pool account, and which the pool in turn owes the province. As security, the province has a mortgage on the warehouses and other property of the pool. How much the province will ultimately lose, or whether it will lose anything, depends upon whether the Alberta pool is run differently, and more successfully than in the past.

If the pool can earn running expenses, and also a margin to cut down its indebtedness, the province will eventually collect as much as it has to pay. The taxpayers are therefore given a strong reason to hope that the pool will keep going and prosper. And the legislature an equally strong reason to get slowly about giving the backing of the province to any commercial enterprise in the future, whether pool-owned or privately-owned.

The Canadian Farm Loan Act.

ARTICLE No. 6

The Canadian Farm Loan Act was passed by the Dominion Parliament in 1927. The provisions of it were brought into effect in this province on April 15th, 1929. It is now in force, I think, in every province in Canada. I am unable to give any information as to how much money has been loaned under it in any particular province, but the Rt. Hon. Mr. Bennett, Minister of Finance gave the following information to the House of Commons in his budget speech on June 1st, 1931:

During the year (1930-31) the Dominion Government advanced $2,600,000 to the Board, being the balance of the five million initial Feed wheat on the Vancouver market has been selling at a considerable premium over the Winnipeg market due to enhanced demand for that grade of wheat on the Pacific coast. Japan permits feed wheat to enter her ports duty free but on all other grades a duty is imposed of approximately 30c a bushel.

Eddie Ford and Percy Lunt returned last week-end from a most successful hunt. Together with Stanley Pearce, of Bearberry, they hunted for a week in the Burnt Stick Lake country and were successful in bagging two large moose and three deer. Eddie has now had much much luck previous years, but made up for it this time.

The hockey club dance on Friday evening last was successful both from a financial and social standpoint. There was a good attendance, and the music supplied by the Virginians Orchestra was very much enjoyed by the dancers. In the drawing for the blanket, Miss Jessie May was the holder of the lucky ticket. As a result of the dance the hockey club were able to add $45.00 to their treasury.

capital, subscription to the capital stock being $199,839.

The financial requirements of the Canadian Farm Loan Board have been met from the Federal treasury and the Board has so far received $5,600,000 made up as follows:

Initial Capital &
Advances	$3,650,000.00
Subscription To Capital Stock	$250,000.00
Purchase of Farm Loan Bonds	$300,000.00
Total	$5,600,000.00

In view of the difficulty of securing a favorable market for Farm Loan Bonds at present, the government has undertaken to purchase on a 5 per cent. basis, bonds to finance the 1931 operations of the Board.

From this it will be seen that only five million dollars have been loaned by the Board in the whole of Canada since the passing of the Act. So far as the Dominion Government is concerned, arrangements appear to have been made to finance the Board for this year. If loans cannot be obtained under the Act here, the fault must lie with the Provincial Board.

Benefit Show For Knox United Church

Through the kindness of Mr. W. H. B. Sharp, the total proceeds of the picture show on Thursday, December 12, will be given to the Knox United Church. There will be a matinee at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and the evening show will commence at 8:30. The picture will be "Penrod and Sam", a children's classic, by Booth Tarkington. There will also be a "Our Gang" comedy and "Felix the Cat."

If there are some things that you have almost forgotten about your own childhood days, if the antics of your own or your neighbor's children give you the willies, come and see this picture. It is a grand cast of more than a score of kiddies that puts on the show. Leon Janny is Penrod, Junior Coghlan is Sam—then there are the two wonderful colored boys, Robert Dandridge and James Robinson and Herman and Verma—and a host of clever grown-ups—and the dog!

Reliance Wheat.

In view of newspaper reports from Saskatchewan having stated that the variety known as Reliance might replace Marquis, the following statement from Dr. O. S. Aamodt, of the Department of Field Crops, University of Alberta should be interesting.

"Newspaper reports emanating from Saskatchewan, Saskatchewan, have stated that the wheat variety known as Reliance might replace Marquis. It will be well to keep the emphasis on the 'might' until more information is obtained on the performance of this variety in Alberta. Reliance is a new variety of spring wheat that was produced by Mr. J. Allen Clarke, of the Division of Cereal Crops & Diseases, United States Department of Agriculture. It is a hybrid selection from a cross between Marquis and Kanred. The latter is a winter wheat.

"Reliance is not rust-resistant and is susceptible to bunt, or stinking smut. During the past season it lodged badly and required five days more for maturity than Marquis. The average yield for the past three years at the University Farm at Edmonton is three bushels less than Marquis. It is fair in milling and baking quality.

"It has been distributed primarily in Western North Dakota and in Montana where it appears to do fairly well on the drier soils. If it has a place in Alberta it will be in Zone 6 of the Varied Zoning Map compiled by the Provincial Seed Board. This zone lies east and south of a line drawn through Magrath, Vulcan, Three Hills and Daysland."

C.P.R. Starting Mixed Trains

An effort to meet through motor competition, the Canadian Pacific Railway has decided to operate a mixed train service daily between Altham, Calgary, and South Edmonton, commencing December 21. Trains will stop on flag signal at various points to handle passengers, and it is anticipated that the service, in conjunction with the regular passenger service of three trains daily each way will be of considerable value to commercial travellers and others who wish to cover several towns in one day.

This new service will also considerably speed up through freight traffic service between Calgary, Red Deer and Edmonton. The northbound train leaves Altham yard at 10 o'clock in the morning, arriving at Didsbury at 12:30. The southbound leaves Didsbury at 10:57 a.m. arriving at Altham at 13:30.

The Antidote For Fear

Courage, Confidence and Hope Needed By World Today

The curse of humanity has always been fear.

Fear dates back to the beginning of man.

Fear is the mother of hatred, the instigator of murder, the begetter of wars.

Fear is the enemy of sanity, the spoiler of judgment, the defiler of the soul.

Fear turns day into night and makes men walk in darkness.

Fear is the forerunner of distress, the foe to prosperity, the preserver of poverty.

Fear is the failure of the spirit, the triumph of the primitive over the civilized, the victory of death over life.

As individuals and as a nation we should cast fear from us.

Courage, confidence, hope these are the antidotes, and the world has great need of them today. Fear is the thing that halts progress and creates difficulties, makes people hesitate where courage would see them through.

Tender-handed stroke a nettle. And it stings you for your pains: grasp it like a man of nettle—And as soft as silk remains.

—London Daily Express.

TOO FAT AT 22

Lost 19 lbs.—And Backache

"I am 22 years of age, and I weighed 192 lbs. I had pains in the back and head. I didn't care about anything. When my friend told me to try Knudsen Sells, I would not at first—I was sick of taking stuff. But after I tried Knudsen Sells, six months ago, I have lost 19 lbs., and feel a different woman, so I am very thankful to Mrs. Knudsen Sells."

The condition which caused this woman to put on weight was also the cause of her backache and headaches. The whole trouble was due to the internal organs failing to expel from the body regularly and completely, the waste products of digestion.

The pills of Knudsen Sells assist the internal organs to perform their functions properly, to throw off each day the waste and poisons that clog the system. Then, little by little, that ugly fatness, slowly, slowly, but surely, the backache and headaches disappear. You feel wonderfully healthy, snappy, and energetic—more so than ever before in your life.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST
By Aline Michaelis

THE FLAME

As a man may kindle a flame that glows on a hearth in a cold, bare room. Till its dancing light, all color of rose, floods the place with its warmth and bloom.

He has lighted a spark in many lives with the torch of his spirit's fire. He has kindled the dream that through all survives.

He has quickened the high desire.

As a blaze with its glamour of ruddy light transfigures a room once bleak.

So the flame of his courage, clear and bright,

Brings the power the timorous seek. He has brought into lives that were dream and cold.

Into doubting hearts of youth, A gift which has solace for young and old.

The flicker of living truth!

The Lovely Waskiesu

New Waltz and Song Enjoying a Vogue in the West

Extolling the beauties of Waskiesu Lake, the national playground in Northern Saskatchewan, Mr. J. S. Brundage of Regina, has published a song entitled "The Lovely Waskiesu".

A very delightful musical setting has been arranged by Margaret Lindsay, also of Regina, and the song has been dedicated "To those who have loved and fished in the Canadian Northwest. Words of the song are as follows:

I've wandered over eastern hills, I've tried the western plain, And revelled in the beauty of the waving golden grain. But nature holds a nobler gem the lovely Waskiesu.

Over hill and dale and winding trail I'm coming back to you.

Thy face reflects the setting sun in many shaded hues. The woodland walks thy haunts with a frame of soft green.

Thy waters crown a lullaby, soft as a Mother's song.

That soothes to rest the weary mind, while childhood memories throng.

The flowers deck thy verdant banks, the aspens whisper low.

And shed a benediction in the silvery moonlight glow.

The northland calls her children home to lovely Waskiesu.

Over hill and dale and winding trail I'm coming back to you.

Colorful Career

Death Of Leader Of Miners' Federation In Britain

The death of A. J. Cook, general secretary of the Miners' Federation of Great Britain, removed a colorful figure from the political and economical life of Britain. Cook was 46 years of age.

During his lifetime he was twice imprisoned for taking part in strikes and lockouts. He worked for years as a miner underground. He had served on a host of committees dealing with the British coal problem.

The son of a soldier, Cook was born at Woskey, in Somerset, in 1885. He was educated at the elementary school and the Central Labor College, London, England. At the age of 17 he preached in a Baptist pulpit, but was turned out of chapel owing to his socialistic views. He joined the Independent Labor Party in 1905 and served on three government coal commissions. He was international government delegate to the coal conference at Geneva.

Cook, who earned the title of "Emperer" Cook during the general strike of 1926, served underground as a miner for 21 years. In 1911 he won a two-years' scholarship at the Central Labor College. He was imprisoned in 1918 and again in 1921 for taking part in strikes and lockouts.

Death came at a Hampstead hospital, which he had entered last September for an operation for a glandular swelling in the neck.

Soviets To Build Autos

Construction of a giant Soviet automobile plant at Nizhni Novgorod has been completed, it is announced and the plant is expected to start production next January. Equipped with the most modern foreign machinery, it consists of 32 shops covering more than 60 acres and with an estimated output of 140,000 autos a year. A number of the shops have already started operation.

Sensitive Drum-Shaped Pick-Up That Has Great Possibilities

Talkies and radio may have a new lumen in a drum-shaped pick-up of gold leaf only one-millionth of an inch thick. Details of its development were made public at Purdue University, Indiana.

This membrane, 50 to 100 atomic diameters in thickness, is stretched out like a drum head over a steering larger in diameter than a silver United States dollar.

Dr. Karl Lark-Horowitz, head of the physic department, said that the big pick-up reproduces the low frequencies, that is, the deep tones, almost without distortion. It can be used both for pick-up of sound and for loud speaking.

"Thank God!" she heard him mutter. Then, aloud, reassuringly: "I've got my end of it all right. Now, can you catch hold of the strap and raise yourself a little so that I can reach you?"

Jean obeyed. A minute later she felt his arms about her shoulders, underneath her armpits, and then very slowly, but with a sure strength that took from her all sense of fear, he drew her safely up beside him on to the high ground.

For a moment they both rested quietly, recovering their breath. The Englishman seemed glad of the respite, and Jean noticed with concern the rather drawn look of his face. She thought he must be more played out than he cared to acknowledge.

Across the silence of sheer fatigue their eyes met. Jean's filled with a wistful solicitude as unconscious and candid as a child's, the man's curiously brilliant and inscrutable. And in a moment the silence had become something other, different, charged with emotional significance, the revealing silence which falls suddenly between a man and woman.

At last:

"This is what comes of stealing a day from Mrs. Grundy," commented the man dryly.

And the tension was broken.

He sprang up, as though anxious to maintain the recovered atmosphere of the commonplace.

"Come! Having shot her bolt and tried ineffectually to down you in a ditch, I expect the old lady will let us get home safely now. We're through the worst. There are no more difficulties between her and the hotel."

It was true. Anything that might have spelt danger was past, and it only remained to follow the beaten track up to the hotel, though even so, with the wind and snow driving in their faces, it took them a good half-hour to accomplish the task.

Monsieur and Madame de Varigny

When TEETHING makes HIM FUSSY

One of the most important things you can do to make a teething baby comfortable is to see that little bowels do their work of carrying off waste matter promptly and regularly. For this nothing is better than Castoria, a pure vegetable preparation specially made for babies and children. Castoria not only gently gives you give it to young infants to relieve colic. Yet it is always effective, for older children, too. Remember, Castoria contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics, is absolutely harmless. When your baby is fretful with teething or a food upset, give a cleansing dose of Castoria. Be sure you get genuine Castoria with the name: the name:

CHILDREN CRY FOR IT

a distracted "maitre d'hotel," and a little crowd of interested and sympathetic visitors welcomed their arrival.

"Mon dieu, mademoiselle! But we rejoice to see you back!" exclaimed Madame de Varigny. "We ourselves are only newly returned—and that, with difficulty, through this terrible storm—and we arrive to find that none knows where you are!"

"Me, I made sure that mademoiselle had accompanied Madame la Comtesse," asserted Monsieur Vautrin, nervously anxious to exculpate himself from any charge of carelessness.

"We were just going to organize a search-party," added the little Count. "I, myself," stoddily—"should have joined in the search!"

Wary as she was, Jean could hardly refrain from smiling at the idea of the diminutive Count in the role of gallant preserver. He would have been considerably less well-qualified even than herself to cope with the drifting snow through which the sheer, dogged strength of the Englishman had brought her safely.

Instinctively she turned with the intention of effecting an introduction between the latter and the Vaingays, only to find that he had disappeared. He had taken the opportunity presented by the little ferment of excitement which had greeted her safe return to slip away.

She felt oddly disconcerted. And yet, she reflected, it was so like him—so like the conception of him which she had formed, at least to evade both her thanks and the enthusiasm with which a recital of the afternoon's adventure would have been received.

CHAPTER VI.

The Magic Moment

Jean, surprisingly revived by a hot bath and a hot drink, and comfortably tucked up beside the fire in her room, was recounting the day's adventure to Madame de Varigny.

It was a somewhat expurgated version of the affair that she outlined—thoughtfully calculated to allay the natural apprehensions of a temporary chaperon in which the unknown Englishman figured immovably as merely having come to her assistance when, in the course of her afternoon's tramp, she had been overtaken by the blizzard. Of the stolen day, snatched from under Mrs. Grundy's enquiring nose, Jean preserved a discreet silence.

"I don't know who he could be," she pursued. "I've never seen him on the ice before! I should certainly have recognized him if I had. He was a lean, brown man, very English-looking, that sort of cold-but-every-morning effect, you know. Oh! And he had one perfectly white lock of hair that was distinctly attractive. It looked," descriptively, "as though someone had dabbed a powdered finger on his hair—just in the right place."

Madame de Varigny's eyes narrowed, and a quick ejaculation escaped her. It was something more than a mere exclamation commoting interest; it held a definitely individual note, as though it sprang from some sudden access of personal feeling.

Jean, hearing it, looked up in some surprise, and the other, meeting her questioning glance, rushed hastily into speech.

"A lock of white hair? But how chic! It should not," thoughtfully—the difficult to discover the identity of anyone with so distinctive a characteristic."

"He is not staying in the hotel, at all events," said Jean. "He told me he was at a friend's chateau."

"And he did not enlighten you as to his name? Gave you no hint?"

Madame de Varigny spoke with an assumption of indifference in her liquid voice.

Jean shook her head, smiling a little to herself. It had been part of the charm of that brief companionship that neither of the two comrades knew any of the everyday, commonplace details concerning the other.

"Perhaps you will see him again at the rink tomorrow," suggested

Madame de Varigny, still with that note of restrained eagerness in her tones. "The snow is not deep except where it has drifted; they will clear the ice in the morning."

Jean was silent. She was not altogether sure that she wanted to see him again. As it stood, robbed of all commonplace circumstances of convention, the incident held a certain glamour of whimsical romance which could not but appeal to the daughter of Glyn Peterson. Nicely rounded off, as, for instance, by the unknown Englishman's proudly smiling at the hotel the next day to enquire whether she had suffered any ill effects, it would lose all the thrill of adventure. It was the suggestion of incompleteness which flavored the entire episode so piquantly.

No, on the whole, Jean rather hoped that she would not meet the Englishman again—at least, not yet. Some day, perhaps, it might be rather nice if chance brought them together once more. There would be a certain element of romantic fitness about it, should that happen.

"I don't think I am likely to see him again," she said quietly, replying to Madame de Varigny's suggestion. "He told me he was going away tomorrow."

Had it been conceivable, Jean would have said that a flash of disappointment crossed the Countess's face. But there seemed no possible reason why the movements of an unknown Englishman should cause her any excitement of feeling whatever, pleasant or otherwise. The only feasible explanation was that odd little streak of ingenuity concerning other people's affairs which appeared to be characteristic of her and which she had before evinced concerning the circumstances of Lady Anne Brennan.

Whatever curiosity she may have felt, however, on this occasion Madame de Varigny refrained from giving expression to it. Apparently dismissing the subject of the Englishman's identity from her mind, she switched the conversation into a fresh channel.

"It is unfortunate that you should have met with such a contretemps today. You will not feel disposed to dance this evening, after so much fatigue," she observed commiseratingly.

But Jean scouted the notion. With the incomparable resiliency of youth, she felt quite equal to dancing all night if needs be.

"Mais tout au contraire!" she exclaimed. "I'm practically recovered—at least, I shall be after another half-hour's hazing by this glorious fire. I wonder what heaven-sent inspiration induced Monsieur Vautrin to install

Invitation For Next Year

The London Times says that when Prime Minister R. B. The suggestion is made, the Times added, that the meeting should not be held too early in the year, in order that all the governments of the Empire might have ample time to make their preparations.

HOCKEY

DIDSBURY vs. CARSTAIRS

In the opening hockey game of the season, Didsbury trimmed Carstairs 2-1 Tuesday night.

For an opener, the game produced some good hockey and fine goal-tending. The locals played better combination, but lost goals through lack of polish around the gaspines.

Al Russell played a fine game for Didsbury and shows plenty of promise. The visitors worked hard, and after more conditioning should make any team in the league travel to win.

Referee Bob Gooder handed out only two penalties, one Didsbury player deserved two at three himself. This rough stuff should be stopped, especially in a friendly game, and the fans have had enough of it, they pay to watch hockey.
